Amanda DiVito of RE/MAX Alliance Recognized by Realtor Magazine with "30-Under-30" Honor

AMANDA DIVITO, ABR®, CRS®
DiVito started her real estate career in junior high, when she'd walk to her dad's office after school to help pull listings, file paperwork, and even make prospecting calls. "I was supposed to be filing or something, but I'd sit there behind my father, watching him with clients and learning the business," she says.

HOME SWEET HOME: She essentially never left the RE/MAX office in Arvada, Colo., working summers during college and eventually returning with her real estate license in hand. She made the transition from inquisitive child to top producer gracefully, with more than $10 million in sales in 2007. Meanwhile, she's already served as president of her local builder-realty council and, at 24, was the youngest director ever elected by her local association.

RE/MAX Alliance
Arvada, CO

ARVADA—Amanda DiVito, a leading broker associate with RE/MAX Alliance in Arvada, has been recognized in Realtor Magazine's June 2008 issue as one of the country's top 30 real estate professionals under the age of 30. The annual "30-under-30 issue honors stellar young professionals that "will be pacesetters for years to come." IN the multi-page cover story, DiVito and the other winners were cited for overcoming barriers and seizing new opportunities.

Amanda DiVito earned her Colorado real estate license in 2004 and she is a member of the Jefferson County Association of Realtors. She currently serves the diverse real estate needs of clients through the metro Denver area. DiVito holds numerous special designations recognizing the successful completion of stringent continuing education courses in real estate. She was honored with the "Rising Star" award in 2004 recognizing superior achievement by a Rookie broker. She is the immediate past president of her local Denver metro Builder Realtor Council and served on the board of directors of the Jefferson County Association of Realtors since the age of 24, the youngest director ever elected by her local association.

DiVito is known for delivering uncompromised customer service while fulfilling the real estate dreams of her client. She is active with the Children's Miracle Network benefiting the Children's Hospital, and the Susan G. Komen Race for the cure benefiting breast cancer research. DiVito earned her bachelor's degree from Colorado State University and is a second generation Realtor with RE/MAX Alliance. She enjoys tennis, golf, and singing.

"We couldn't be happier for Amanda and her 30-Under-30" distinction by Realtor Magazine is well deserved," said Chad Ochsner, broker/owner of RE/MAX Alliance. "Amanda has exemplified extraordinary passion for this business and continues to overcome obstacles inherent to the highly competitive real estate industry. We applaud her efforts and her achievements, and are pleased company-wide that Amanda has been recognized nationally for her stellar career."

Realtor Magazine's lead-in to the cover feature stated the "Even when business was booming, succeeding in real estate required drive and commitment. Today, it requires a combination of guts and creativity that deserves a full-on salute. This year's 30 Under 30 winners, selected from more than 400 applicants, were especially shrewd at overcoming barriers and seizing new opportunities."
